

The last thing we need in todays world is allowing cell phone on the airplanes while in flight. No No No.....This is one place in the world you can have some peace. You do not need to communicate over the phone at all times. Can you imagine what this will be like in a confined area with many "bad phone" people yelling into their phones? This is a no brainer. Mpallot@aol.com